

Description

i have submitted an article to a known journal and went through two rounds of peer review. besides incorporating the second round review comments, the editor have urged me to use the sage style and language editing service . i dont have a research budget and cannot afford the charges. what do you advice?

Date Created

2020/05/24

Author

seonetwork