Writing a Perfect Abstract: Completeness

Author

Enago Academy

Post Url

https://www.enago.com/academy/tips/writing-perfect-abstract-completeness-3/

Always ensure that the abstract is complete, i.e., it should stand alone without any reference to the main text. Also, it should contain keywords that would make it easily searchable in other databases. Note that the text used in the abstract should not be repeated in the main manuscript to avoid repetition.

Cite this article