Word Choice	2
Grammar		Average Score :	2.7
Subject-Verb Agreement	3	Helpful Resource! Writing in the first, second, or third person is referred to as the author's point of view. When we write, we tend to personalize the text by writing in the first person. That is, we use pronouns such as "I" and "we." To read about the usage of the first, second, and third person point of view, do visit https://www.enago.com/academy/we-vs-they-using-first-or-third-person-in-a-research-paper/
Article Usage	2
Tenses	3
Mechanics and Style		Average Score :	3.3
Punctuation	3	Quick Read! The abbreviation "e.g." stands for the Latin "exempli gratia," which means "for example," and "i.e." stands for the Latin phrase "id est," which means "that is to say." Some confuse the two terms and use them incorrectly.
